

THE SOLD-OUT BOOTIE BLUEPRINT

The 90-Day Roadmap From Handmade
Hobby to Real Monthly Income

BOOTIE MASTER

WELCOME

From Hobby to $1,000

PROMISE

In the next 90 days you will take the 60 patterns you already own and turn them into a real, working small business — not a folder of PDFs.

WHAT YOU NEED

- your 60 bootie patterns
- a smartphone camera
- one hour a day
- zero paid ads.

THE 3 PHASES

- Days 1-30
Build your storefront.
- Days 31-60
Turn on free traffic.
- Days 61-90
Repeat what sells and cut what does not.

BEFORE YOU START

Pick your Etsy shop name.

Charge your phone.

Set a daily 60-minute timer.

Tell one friend so you have accountability.

RULE: One task a day beats ten tasks once a month.

WEEK 1

Take Your Money-Making Photos

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Turn your finished booties into photos that stop the scroll and make strangers want to buy.

AVOID THIS

- Shooting in yellow indoor light instead of near a window.
- Using a busy, cluttered background that fights the product.
- Posting only 1 photo per listing instead of 3-5 angles.
- Skipping a close-up of the stitch detail buyers want to see.

TASKS

- Shoot 1 flatlay photo per pattern on a clean linen or wood background.
- Shoot 1 on-model or on-prop photo per pattern (stuffed sock, doll foot, or baby prop).
- Apply the Lightroom Mobile preset for warm, consistent light.
- Pick your 5 best photos as your shop's first listings.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

Smartphone camera

Window with soft daylight

Plain linen or wood board

Lightroom Mobile preset pack

5 finished booties

WEEK 1 CHECKLIST

1

5 products photographed

Consistent warm color tone

1 hero shot chosen

Photos saved in a dedicated folder

TIP: Natural window light beats any ring light you can buy this week.

WEEK 2

Write Etsy Listings That Actually Sell

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Turn your photos into 5 live Etsy listings with titles and tags built to be found, not just seen.

TASKS

- Write an SEO title for each listing using the format: [style] + [item] + [material] + [occasion];
- Fill all 13 Etsy tags per listing, no repeats, no single words;
- Write a description that opens with the buyer's problem, not your process;
- Set your price using the 3-tier chart: survival, comfortable, boutique.

AVOID THIS

- Titling a listing just "Cute Baby Booties" with no keywords;
- Leaving Etsy tags empty or reusing the exact same 3 tags everywhere;
- Pricing by "what feels fair" instead of the pricing chart;
- Forgetting to enable the shipping profile before publishing.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

Etsy Seller account

SEO title formula card

13-tag checklist

3-tier pricing chart

Shipping profile template

WEEK 2 CHECKLIST

5 listings published

All tags filled

Pricing chart applied

Shop policies page completed

TIP: Copy your best-performing title formula into every new listing from now on.

WEEK 3

Set Up Your 3 Traffic Channels

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Claim your spot on the 3 free channels where baby-craft buyers actually spend their time.

TASKS

- Create an Instagram or TikTok account and switch it to a Creator/Business profile.
- Create a Pinterest Business account and verify your Etsy shop URL.
- Join your first 10 Facebook Groups from the group directory.
- Write your bio on all 3 channels linking straight to your Etsy shop.

AVOID THIS

- Starting a brand-new personal account instead of a Creator profile.
- Skipping Pinterest business verification, which hides your rich pins.
- Joining groups but never reading the posting rules pinned at the top.
- Leaving the bio link empty or pointing to nothing.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

Phone number for verification

Facebook Groups directory

Pinterest Business account

Instagram or TikTok Creator account

Etsy shop URL

WEEK 3 CHECKLIST

3 channels live

Get your Instagram, TikTok and Pinterest profiles up and running.

10 groups joined

Join and be active in your first 10 Facebook Groups.

Bio links set

Add your Etsy shop link to all 3 channels.

Pinterest shop verified

Complete verification and unlock rich pins.

TIP: A finished profile with zero posts still beats an unfinished one.

WEEK 4

Soft Launch — Get Your First 10 Listings Live

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Round out your shop to 10 published listings so a first-time visitor sees a real business, not a test.

TASKS

- Publish 5 more listings using the same title and tag formula.
- Add a shop banner and logo using your product photos.
- Turn on Etsy's "Star Seller" eligible settings (fast reply, on-time shipping).
- Ask 3 friends or family to favorite a listing to seed early social proof.

AVOID THIS

- Launching with fewer than 10 listings, which reads as an empty shop.
- Leaving the shop banner as the Etsy default gray box.
- Ignoring shipping and processing time settings.
- Waiting for "perfect" before publishing anything.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

10 finished listings

Shop banner template

Logo file

Friends/family list for early favorites

Star Seller checklist

WEEK 4 CHECKLIST

10 listings live

Get your shop fully stocked.

Shop banner set

Make your shop look professional.

3 early favorites

Build social proof from day one.

Star Seller settings on

Enable for better visibility and trust.

TIP: A shop with 10 listings looks 5x more trustworthy than a shop with 3.

WEEK 5

Post Your First 10 Scroll-Stop Reels

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Start showing up in the feed with short videos that turn strangers into shop visitors.

TASKS

- Post 5 process-first Reels: hands crocheting, time-lapse style, trending audio.
- Post 5 finished-piece-hero Reels: the bootie reveal with a satisfying close.
- Add the same 3-5 relevant hashtags to every post.
- Put your Etsy link in your bio link and mention it once in each caption.

AVOID THIS

- Posting only finished-product photos with no process content.
- Using trending audio that has nothing to do with craft or babies.
- Changing hashtags every single post instead of building a consistent set.
- Forgetting a call-to-action in the caption.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

60 Scroll-Stop Reel Templates folder

Trending audio list

Phone tripod

Caption formula card

Hashtag set

WEEK 5 CHECKLIST

10 Reels posted

Get those videos live and working for you.

Consistent hashtag set used

Build recognition and reach.

Bio link active

Make it easy for people to shop.

First comments or shares received

Engagement means you're reaching the right people.

TIP: Post at the same time of day for two weeks straight before judging results.

Build Your Pinterest Boards

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Turn Pinterest into a search engine that finds your shop for you, 24 hours a day.

TASKS

- Create 12 boards using the SEO board-name templates from the Launcher.
- Pin 5 of your own listing photos per board with keyword-rich descriptions.
- Pin 5 curated inspiration images per board to keep boards active.
- Enable rich pins so price and availability show automatically.

AVOID THIS

- Naming boards "My Stuff" instead of a searchable keyword phrase.
- Pinning only your own products with zero inspiration content.
- Writing a pin description with no keywords, just an emoji.
- Forgetting to link every pin back to the matching Etsy listing.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

12 Pinterest board templates

SEO keyword list

Rich pins verification

Pin description formula

10 pins per board

WEEK 6 CHECKLIST

12 boards created

120 pins published

Rich pins enabled

First outbound clicks tracked

TIP: Pinterest rewards consistency over weeks, not a single viral pin.

WEEK 7

Work the Facebook Groups

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Turn 200+ curated Facebook Groups into a steady stream of warm, ready-to-buy eyes on your shop.

TASKS

- Read the pinned rules of your first 10 groups before posting anything.
- Post in 5 selling-allowed groups using the group-specific caption format.
- Engage genuinely in 5 non-selling groups to build recognition first.
- Track which groups actually send clicks in a simple spreadsheet.

AVOID THIS

- Posting your listing in a group that bans self-promotion.
- Copy-pasting the same caption into every group with no customization.
- Only posting and never commenting on anyone else's content.
- Giving up after one group instead of testing 10.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

200+ Facebook Groups directory

Posting rules cheat sheet

Group caption templates

Simple tracking spreadsheet

5 selling-allowed groups

WEEK 7 CHECKLIST

10 groups engaged

Find and join your first 10 groups.

5 posts published

Share 5 well-crafted posts.

First group-driven click

Get your first click from a group.

Tracking sheet started

Log your results and learn.

TIP: The groups that convert best are rarely the biggest ones — track, don't guess.

WEEK 8

Send Your First Wholesale Cold Emails

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Open the door to bigger, repeat orders by pitching local boutiques directly.

TASKS

- Build a list of 10 local baby boutiques using the sourcing method provided.
- Send the cold-email template to all 10, personalized with the shop's name.
- Follow up with the 48-hour follow-up script for anyone who did not reply.
- Prepare your wholesale price sheet before the first reply comes in.

AVOID THIS

- Sending one generic email with no boutique name in the subject line.
- Never following up after the first email.
- Quoting retail prices instead of the wholesale pricing table.
- Pitching a boutique that does not carry handmade baby goods.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

Wholesale Cold-Email Script Pack

10-boutique target list

Wholesale pricing table
$150-$400

Sample photos to attach

WEEK 8 CHECKLIST

10 emails sent

Reach out to your 10 target boutiques.

Follow-up scheduled

Set reminders for your 48-hour follow-up.

Pricing table ready

Have your wholesale pricing table prepared.

First reply received

Time to start building relationships!

TIP: One wholesale order can equal a full month of one-off Etsy sales.

WEEK 9

Read Your Numbers — Double Down on What Sells

♥ THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Stop guessing. Look at 30 days of real data and put more effort where it is already working.

✓ TASKS

- Pull your Etsy Shop Stats for the last 30 days: views, favorites, sales per listing.
- Pull your Reels and Pinterest analytics for top 3 performing posts.
- Circle your single best-selling listing and best-performing channel.
- Write down one reason each top performer is working.

✗ AVOID THIS

- Judging performance after only 3-4 days of data.
- Comparing raw views instead of the views-to-sale conversion rate.
- Ignoring which traffic channel actually drove the sale.
- Making changes to everything at once instead of one variable at a time.

WEEK 9 CHECKLIST

See what's really working.

Your best-seller
stands out.

Know where your buyers come from.

Turn insight into action.

TIP: Your best-seller is telling you exactly what to make five more of.

WEEK 10

Kill What's Not Working

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Free up your time and shop space by cutting the listings and channels that are not earning their keep.

TASKS

- Pause or unpublish the 2 lowest-performing listings from the last 30 days.
- Drop the 1 channel with the lowest return on your time.
- Redirect that freed-up time into your best-performing channel.
- Archive, don't delete, everything you cut — you may revive it seasonally.

AVOID THIS

- Keeping a dead listing live “just in case”.
- Cutting a channel after only one bad week instead of a full 30 days.
- Deleting instead of archiving, losing reviews and history.
- Cutting the best channel by mistake because it “feels” like more work.

Everything archived,
nothing deleted

TIP: Doing less, better, beats doing everything at 50%.

Raise Prices & Add Bundles

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Increase your average order value without finding a single new customer.

TASKS

- Raise prices 10-15% on your top 3 best-selling listings.
- Build 1 bundle offer pairing 2 booties as a matched gift set.
- Add a "frequently bought together" note linking complementary listings.
- Test the new prices for 2 weeks before judging the result.

AVOID THIS

- Raising prices on your worst sellers instead of your best.
- Bundling two random items with no visual or seasonal connection.
- Changing prices and bundles in the same week you cannot compare results.
- Panicking and reverting prices after only 2-3 days.

WHAT YOU'LL USE

TIP: A buyer who already loves your work rarely leaves over a 10% price increase.

WEEK 12

Celebrate Your First $1,000 + Plan Month 4

THIS WEEK'S GOAL

Total your 90 days, lock in what worked, and set your simple plan for month 4.

TASKS

- Add up all sales from Day 1 to Day 90 across every channel.
- List your top 3 listings, top channel, and top price point in one page.
- Write your Month 4 plan: which 2 things to keep doing, which 1 new thing to test.
- Reward yourself — you built a real business in 90 days.

AVOID THIS

- Skipping the total because "it's not $1,000 yet" — track it either way.
- Trying to add 5 new things in Month 4 instead of testing 1.
- Forgetting to write the plan down, relying on memory alone.
- Comparing your 90 days to someone else's highlight reel.
