Before You Start • The Math That Changes Everything

"Right now, every cap you sell is a one-night stand. One system turns that stranger into $140 a year on autopilot."

The average crochet cap sells for around $18. Materials and time cost you about $5, leaving roughly $13 profit per cap. To clear $500 a month, that means closing 38 brand-new buyers every single month — forever, if nobody ever comes back.

The five modules in this book aren't about finding more strangers. They're about making sure the buyers you already have don't disappear after one purchase — because a customer who buys from you three or four times a year is worth far more than three or four one-time strangers, and she's already found you once.

✓ How to use this book. Set up Module 1 (the follow-up sequence) first — it runs on autopilot once it's in place. Then layer in the seasonal calendar, the add-on kit, and the loyalty card as you have time. You don't need all five running on day one.

The 9-Touch Follow-Up Sequence

Copy-paste text or DM messages for day 1 through day 90 — a mix of thank-yous, care tips, referral asks, and restock reminders.

Send each message on roughly the day listed, by text or DM — whichever channel you used to make the sale. You don't need special software; a note in your phone with the buyer's name and purchase date is enough to track it.

THANK YOU

Hi [name]! Just wanted to say thank you again for grabbing the [cap name] — I hope it's already keeping you cozy. Let me know if you have any questions about caring for it!

DAY

CARE TIP

Quick tip for your new cap: hand wash in cool water and lay flat to dry — the dryer can shrink the yarn. It'll keep its shape for years if you skip the machine wash!

CHECK-IN

Hey [name], how's the cap treating you? Would love to see a photo if you've snapped one — I always love seeing my pieces out in the world 😊

REFERRAL ASK

If you know anyone who'd love one of these for themselves (or as a gift), I'd really appreciate you passing my name along — word of mouth means everything for a small shop like mine!

SOFT RESTOCK NUDGE

Hi [name]! Just made a fresh batch in a couple of new colors — thought of you since you liked [original color/style]. Want me to send photos?

VALUE ADD

Random thought — if your cap ever needs a quick fluff-up, a fabric steamer (or even steam from a kettle held a few inches away) brings the stitches right back to looking new. Works like a charm!

SEASONAL TIE-IN

[Season/holiday] is coming up — I've got a few gift-ready sets made up if you're thinking of someone on your list this year. Happy to hold one for you.

LOYALTY REMINDER

Just a heads up — every 5th cap you grab from me, the 6th is half off. You're at [X] so far! Let me know whenever you're ready for the next one.

RELATIONSHIP CHECK-IN

It's been a few months since your [cap name] — I love keeping in touch with the people who've supported my little shop. Anything new you're looking for? Happy to make something custom too.

⚠ Don't sell in every message. Notice only 3 of the 9 touches actually ask for a purchase. The rest build trust — that ratio is what makes touch 5, 8, and 9 land instead of feeling like spam.

The Seasonal Restock Reminder Calendar

A simple send-this-on-this-date calendar so you reach out exactly when a buyer is most likely to want another cap.

Two moments sell the best: right when a gift-giving occasion is approaching, and right around the one-year mark of a buyer's original purchase (when a well-worn cap starts to need replacing). Use this table to know when to send Module 1's day-60 seasonal touch, or a fresh one-off message.

SEND BY	OCCASION	MESSAGE ANGLE
Jan 15	New Year fresh-start	New colorways for the new year, cozy-season restock
Feb 1	Valentine's Day	Gift-ready sets for a partner or best friend
Apr 15	Mother's Day	Gift for mom / grandma — offer to gift-wrap
Aug 1	Back to school	Kids' caps, matching sets for siblings
Sep 15	Early fall	First cool days — replace last year's worn cap
Oct 1	Halloween	Themed colors, novelty styles
Nov 1	Thanksgiving / early holiday	Gift sets before the holiday rush hits
Nov 25	Christmas / winter holidays	Last-call gift orders, custom color requests
~1 year after purchase	Cap replacement window	"Your cap is about due for a refresh" — softest, highest-converting angle

✓ Priority date. If you only track one, track the "1 year after purchase" date per buyer — a cap that's a year old has genuinely started to wear, so this message doesn't feel like a sales pitch, it feels like a helpful reminder.

The $12 Add-On Kit

A ready-made matching keychain pattern with pricing and listing photos already done — something small to drop into her next order that makes buying a habit.

An add-on works because it's a small, low-friction "yes" that rides along with a bigger purchase, or stands alone as a tiny gift item. This mini yarn-ball keychain uses leftover yarn from your caps, so the material cost is close to zero.

Materials

- A small amount of leftover yarn (matching or contrasting your cap colors)
- A 3.5mm (E) crochet hook, or whatever size matches your yarn weight
- A keychain ring or clasp
- A small pinch of stuffing (optional, for a fuller shape)
- A yarn needle for finishing

Pattern — Mini Yarn-Ball Keychain

WRITTEN PATTERN (US CROCHET TERMS)

Round 1: Magic ring, work 6 single crochet into the ring, pull the ring tight. (6 stitches)

Round 2: Work 2 single crochet into every stitch around. (12 stitches)

Round 3: Single crochet in every stitch around, no increases. (12 stitches)

Round 4: Alternate one single-crochet-two-together with one plain single crochet, all the way around. (8 stitches)

— Add a small pinch of stuffing here if using —

Round 5: Single-crochet-two-together all the way around. (4 stitches)

Finish: Cut the yarn leaving a 6-inch tail, thread it through the remaining 4 stitches, pull tight to close, and knot off. Weave the tail through the ball to hide it, leaving a small loop out the top. Attach the keychain ring through that loop with a slipknot or jump ring.

Total time: about 20 minutes once you're comfortable with the pattern. Because it uses scrap yarn, your material cost per keychain is typically under $1.50, including the keychain ring.

Pricing

SOLD AS	SUGGESTED PRICE	WHY IT WORKS
Standalone item	$8-10	Low-price impulse buy at a market table or in a DM
Add-on with a cap order	+$12 bundled	Feels like a small upgrade, not a separate purchase decision
Free gift over $[threshold]	$0 (included)	Raises average order value by giving buyers a reason to spend a bit more to qualify

Listing photo tip. Photograph 3-4 keychains together in different colors against the same plain background you use for your caps — it reads as a matching "collection," which sells better than a single keychain photographed alone.

Printable Loyalty Card

"Buy 5 caps, the 6th is half off." Print this, hand it out at markets, or recreate it as a digital stamp card.

A loyalty card gives buyers a concrete reason to come back to you specifically instead of any other handmade seller — and it costs you nothing but a discount you were likely to offer a repeat buyer anyway.

Stamp or check one box per purchase · Card resets after the 6th cap

Print this on cardstock and hand it out with a buyer's first purchase, or recreate the same 6-box layout in a notes app / spreadsheet if you're tracking buyers digitally instead of with physical cards.

Winback Messages

For buyers who've gone quiet — templates for day 30, 60, and 90 of silence, with an offer that actually pulls them back.

DAY 30 OF SILENCE

Hi [name]! It's been a bit since I heard from you — hope the [cap name] is still keeping you warm. I just added a few new colors if you ever want to see them, no pressure at all!

DAY 60 OF SILENCE

Hey [name], thinking of past customers like you as the weather's turning — if you're due for a refresh or thinking of someone for a gift, I'd love to make you something. Happy to do a custom color too.

DAY 90 OF SILENCE

Hi [name]! I put together a small "welcome back" offer for a few of my favorite past customers — $[discount amount] off your next order, good through [date]. Would love to make you something again soon 🍷

✓ Why day 90 gets a real discount and the earlier ones don't. A buyer who hasn't responded by day 90 needs a stronger reason to come back than a friendly check-in — the discount is what turns "maybe someday" into "actually, yes."

Turn strangers into regulars.

Set up Module 1 today. Everything else layers in whenever you have time.

Once repeat buyers are flowing in, the next ceiling to break is retail math itself — that's exactly what The Wholesale Warhead™ is for.
