Introduction • The ceiling nobody talks about

"Selling one kit at a time, no matter how good your flavors are, caps you at roughly 60-70 kits a week. A different kind of customer breaks that ceiling — and almost nobody shows sellers how to pitch one."

The sellers who hit real income aren't messaging one customer at a time forever. At some point, one cafe, one office, or one event planner orders 50, 100, sometimes 200 capsules in a single message. That's not a bigger sale — it's a different business, and this bonus is exactly how to walk into that conversation and walk out with a standing order.

✓ How to use this. Pick one local cafe or shop this week and send the Section 1 script as-is. Don't overthink the wording — it's already built to sound natural, not salesy.

The Cafe & Local Shop Pitch Script

Word for word — for walking in, calling, or messaging.

In-person or phone opener

SCRIPT 1 · OPENING LINE

"Hi! I make artisan cappuccino capsules locally, by hand — little chocolate shells that melt into a full cappuccino when you drop them in hot milk. I think they'd be a great fit as an add-on at the counter here, or as a gift item near checkout. Do you have a minute for me to show you one?"

SCRIPT 2 · THE DEMO LINE

"Here, let me show you — drop it in hot milk and watch." (Hand them a sample capsule and a small cup of hot milk if possible, or show a video on your phone if not.)

SCRIPT 3 · THE PITCH

"They're a great impulse add-on — customers add one to their order for $[X], or you could sell gift boxes near the register for the holidays. I can do a trial order of [20-30 units] so you can see how they move before committing to anything bigger."

Handling common pushback

SCRIPT 4 · "WE DON'T USUALLY CARRY OUTSIDE PRODUCTS"

"Totally understand! A lot of shops start with just a small trial batch near the register, no commitment beyond that — if it doesn't move, no hard feelings and I take back what's left."

SCRIPT 5 · "WHAT'S THE MARKUP FOR US?"

"I sell wholesale at $[X] per unit, and shops typically retail them at $[Y] — that's about a $[Z] margin per unit for you, with zero prep work on your end."

SCRIPT 6 · FOLLOWING UP AFTER A TRIAL ORDER

"Hey! Just checking in — how did the capsules do this week? Happy to adjust flavors or quantity for the next order based on what sold best."

SUBJECT LINE

Handmade gifts for your team — a small, memorable alternative to the usual

EMAIL BODY

"Hi [Name],

I make artisan cappuccino capsules by hand — little chocolate shells that turn into a full cappuccino when dropped in hot milk. They've become a popular gift option for teams looking for something a bit more memorable than the usual chocolate box.

I put together a few gifting options that might work well for [company name]:

- Individual capsules, great for a small team gesture
- Gift boxes of 6-12, perfect for client or team gifts
- Custom branding available on request for larger orders

Happy to send a sample so you can try one yourself before deciding on quantity. Let me know if you'd like me to put a quote together for your team size!

Best,
[Your name]"

Timing tip. Send this 6-8 weeks before major gifting seasons (holidays, employee appreciation week) — corporate gift budgets are usually decided well in advance.

SECTION 3 OF 4

Bulk Pricing Tiers

Already calculated so a 100-unit order is quoted in one message, not a guessing game.

ORDER SIZE	DISCOUNT OFF STANDARD PER-UNIT PRICE	TYPICAL USE CASE
20-49 units	10% off	Small cafe trial order, first-time gifting order
50-99 units	15% off	Established cafe restock, mid-size corporate gifting
100-199 units	20% off	Standing cafe order, large corporate gifting run
200+ units	25% off	Event planner bulk order, multi-location cafe chain

Use the wholesale quote template from OTO 1 (The Kit Profit Calculator) to turn any of these tiers into a professional quote in under a minute.

 Protect your margin. Never discount below the 25% ceiling without recalculating your real cost per unit first (see OTO 1, Section 1) — bulk orders should still clear at least 30-35% margin to be worth the batch size.
