

The 3× Buyer Loop System

The Repeat Buyer Machine — Core deliverable · 45-day follow-up sequence

The 3× Buyer Loop System — 45-Day Follow-Up Sequence

Copy-paste ready. Every message you need to send from day 0 (shipping) to day 45 (upsell close), across Etsy Convo, Instagram DMs, and email. Written to be warm and human, not salesy. Every message includes: trigger day (when to send), channel (which platform), subject/opener, full body, and edit-in-place tokens like [NAME], [ITEM], [SET].

Sequence Overview

| Day | Channel            | Purpose               | Message                           |
|-----|--------------------|-----------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 0   | Package insert     | Peak-end anchor       | Physical care card (see Bonus 1)  |
| 3   | Etsy Convo / IG DM | Confirm delight       | "Did it arrive OK?" check-in      |
| 7   | Same channel       | Ask for review        | Testimonial extraction script     |
| 14  | Same channel       | Show adjacent product | Custom order teaser               |
| 30  | Email or DM        | Repeat offer          | Matching set introduction         |
| 45  | Same channel       | Bundle upsell close   | Gift set offer with soft deadline |

Message 1 — Day 3 · Confirm Delight

Etsy Convo version

Hi [NAME] — just checking that your [ITEM] arrived safely ■ I know shipping can be a bit slow lately. Would love to know it landed with you. — [YOUR NAME]

Instagram DM version

Hi [NAME]! ■ Just wanted to make sure your [ITEM] arrived. I know shipping's been unpredictable — let me know it got there! xx [YOUR NAME]

Why day 3: the buyer is still emotionally connected to the purchase but past the shipping anxiety window. Response rate ~40-60%. Each reply becomes a warm relationship anchor.

Message 2 — Day 7 • Testimonial Extraction

Etsy Convo version

Hi again [NAME] — hope you're loving the [ITEM]! When you have a spare 30 seconds, would you be open to leaving a quick review? Even one line about what you liked most. It genuinely helps my little shop show up for the next mama looking for a handmade [ITEM] ■ — [YOUR NAME]

Rule: ask ONE specific thing ("what you liked most") — not "leave a review." Specificity gets specific answers. Generic asks get "5 stars, great" or nothing.

Message 3 — Day 14 • Custom Order Teaser

Etsy Convo version

Hi [NAME] — one last thing (promise!). If you ever want a matching hat or blanket to go with the [ITEM], or a custom color, I take custom orders here → [YOUR CUSTOM LINK]. No pressure at all — just wanted you to know in case a baby shower ever comes up. Xx [YOUR NAME]

Rule: "one last thing (promise!)" gives permission to stop the sequence in her mind → paradoxically makes her more open to the next message because it feels finite.

Message 4 — Day 30 • Matching Set Introduction

Email version (if you have email)

Hi [NAME], I made something you might love. Since you got the [ITEM], I know your little one is around [AGE range]. I just finished a matching [SET] — bootie + bonnet + tiny cardigan. Same colors as yours. First 5 buyers get it at intro pricing (see below). No pressure — just thought of you ■ — [YOUR NAME]

Etsy Convo shorter version

Hi [NAME]! Made a matching [SET] this week and thought of your [ITEM]. Intro pricing for the first 5 buyers → [LINK]. — [YOUR NAME]

Message 5 — Day 45 • Bundle Upsell Close

Best channel: whichever got a reply earlier

Hi [NAME] — quick note, and I promise this is the last one. The matching [SET] I mentioned earlier — I only have room for 2 more this month before I close orders for December. If you want one for [OCCASION — baby shower / gift / photo shoot], now is the time. Same discount → [LINK]. — [YOUR NAME]

Rule: "only have room for 2 more this month" is real scarcity if you set it that way in your production schedule. Never fake.

Non-responder rescue sequence (optional)

If none of the 5 messages get a reply, send this at day 60:

Hi [NAME] — no worries if life got busy ■ I just wanted to say thank you again for supporting my shop. If you ever want anything custom, I'm here. Sending love to your little one. — [YOUR NAME]

This closes the loop warmly. ~15% of "non-responders" reply to THIS message and become repeat buyers 3-6 months later.

Automation notes

- Etsy: use Saved Replies (Shop Manager → Conversations → Saved Replies) to store each message. 30 seconds per send.
- Instagram: use Quick Replies in Meta Business Suite for the same. Or copy-paste from a Notes app.
- Email: if you have Kit/ConvertKit/Mailchimp, set as an automation triggered by "order shipped" tag.
- Track: keep a simple Google Sheet with columns Name / Product / Day 3 / Day 7 / Day 14 / Day 30 / Day 45 / Response / Bought Again. This is your ROI proof.

DELIVERABLE 1 · CARE CARDS

30 Editable Care Cards

Three visual styles, ten voice variations — the card that goes in every package, chosen to fit the buyer, the season, and the mood of the pair leaving your studio.

VERSION 1.0 · BUYER-ONLY MATERIAL · DO NOT SHARE

The care card is the last touch — the piece the buyer picks up when the ribbon is untied.

How to use these cards

---

Every card is designed at 3.5 × 2 inches — the standard artisan care-card size — laid out four per page on Letter paper. Print at Actual Size (do not fit-to-page) on cream cardstock (recommended: 90–110 lb).

The three styles

| STYLE         | CARDS  | BEST FOR                                                                                                                 |
|---------------|--------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Cottage cream | #01–10 | Everyday shop cards. The default choice — warm, welcoming, gender-neutral. Pairs with kraft ribbon and dried eucalyptus. |
| Rose accent   | #11–20 | Baby-shower gifts, feminine palettes, sage-and-rose colourways. Softer look, more traditional.                           |
| Cocoa premium | #21–30 | Boutique tier, heirloom, first-birthday keepsakes. Dark cocoa background, warm cream text — reads more expensive.        |

How to personalise

Every card has editable tokens in monospace text like `{store_name}`, `{signature}`, `{yarn_type}`. Before printing:

1. Open the PDF in Adobe Acrobat (free) or Preview (Mac).
2. Use the "Edit Text" tool to replace tokens with your actual details.
3. Optionally add a hand-written signature or note at the bottom before folding.

THE ONE DETAIL THAT LIFTS EVERY CARD

After printing, tie a small length of natural jute twine through a hole punched in the corner and knot it around the ribbon of the package. It turns the card from an insert into a decoration — and buyers photograph it more.

Printing tips

- Paper: 100 lb cream card stock (Neenah, Cranes, Papermill Direct in UK). Avoid glossy — matte reads more artisan.
- Ink: the "cocoa" cards (21–30) print best with a laser printer. Inkjet works but check that dark backgrounds don't bleed.
- Cutting: follow the dashed lines. A paper trimmer beats scissors for straight edges.

What to do if you edit the PDF

Open in Adobe Acrobat Reader (free), tool "Edit PDF" (paid Acrobat DC unlocks this — trial works for one-off edits). Or open in a browser (Chrome) and Print → Save as PDF after using an online editor like Sejda, PDF24 or SmallPDF (all free for small files).

Alternative: replace the tokens directly in the HTML source file (in the members area), then re-render the PDF using the included `html2pdf.sh` script.

DELIVERABLE 2 · GIFT TAGS

15 Gift Tag Designs

The little rectangle that hangs from the ribbon and tells the buyer this is a gift. Printed on kraft or cream card, punched, threaded with twine — three minutes of finishing that lifts every package.

How to use these tags

Each tag is 2 × 3 inches, six per page on Letter. Print on cream card stock or kraft paper (my preferred combination: kraft for warm/rustic tags, cream for premium). Punch a small hole where marked (dashed circle at the top) and thread with natural jute twine, cotton string, or cream ribbon.

How the 15 tags split

| CATEGORY           | TAGS   | BEST FOR                                                     |
|--------------------|--------|--------------------------------------------------------------|
| Everyday           | #01–06 | Standard shop orders — no specific occasion                  |
| Occasion           | #07–12 | Baby shower, christening, first birthday, coming home outfit |
| Seasonal / holiday | #13–15 | Winter, spring, holiday season                               |

THE TRICK THAT MAKES TAGS PHOTOGRAPH WELL

After threading the twine, tie a small loose knot at the top instead of a tight double knot. It leaves a natural loop that catches the light — buyers photograph packages with visible loops far more than packages with rigid knots. Small detail, real impact on Instagram.

Printing tips

- Paper: for the "cream" and "peach" variants — 100 lb cream card stock. For the "warm" (kraft) variant — natural kraft card 80–100 lb. For the "cocoa" variant — dark chocolate card OR print on cream and reverse the design (some printers struggle with large dark areas).
- Cutting: follow the dashed border. A rotary paper trimmer beats scissors.
- Hole punch: use a standard 1/4 inch (6 mm) hole punch at the marked dashed circle at the top of each tag.
- Twine: natural jute twine or thin cotton string. Cut ~6 inches per tag, thread through the hole, tie with a small loose knot.

The tokens explained

| TOKEN            | REPLACE WITH                                                     |
|------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|
| {store_name}     | Your Etsy shop name                                              |
| {signature}      | Your first name or "the studio"                                  |
| {recipient_name} | Baby's name (if buyer gave it) or the buyer's name               |
| {giver_name}     | Who's sending the gift (for buyers gifting on behalf of someone) |
| {year}           | Year your shop was established                                   |
| {city}           | Where your studio is                                             |

TIE THE TAG OUTSIDE THE BOX, ON THE RIBBON

Not inside. The tag is the first thing the buyer touches when they hold the package. If it's tucked inside, they never see it until after they've opened everything and the moment has passed. Always outside, always on the ribbon.

DELIVERABLE 5 · THANK-YOU NOTES

Thank-You Notes in 5 Languages

Twenty note templates — four per language — for Etsy buyers in English, French, Spanish, German and Italian. Culturally adapted, not machine-translated, with the register each market actually expects.

Why write in the buyer's language

Etsy is a global marketplace — 60% of your buyers are outside your own country. A thank-you note in the buyer's own language triggers a small but real emotional shift: this seller thought about me specifically. That shift converts to (a) higher likelihood of a 5-star review, (b) more repeat orders, and (c) more chance the buyer photographs the note for Instagram.

Machine translation feels off — buyers in French/German especially spot the awkward phrasing. The four templates per language below were written by native speakers, tuned for the register that handmade artisan buyers expect (which is warmer and less formal than what Google Translate produces).

HOW TO PICK THE RIGHT TEMPLATE

1. Look at the buyer's Etsy delivery address — that's the primary signal.
2. Look at the buyer's Etsy display name — sometimes a French name in a Belgian address, etc.
3. When in doubt, default to English — the buyer chose to buy on an English-language Etsy shop, so English is always acceptable.

How to handle each language

| LANGUAGE     | REGISTER                                                                           | FORMALITY                             |
|--------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| English (EN) | Warm, casual, first-name basis                                                     | Informal from the first message       |
| French (FR)  | Warm but with polite frame — always "vous" in written commerce                     | Formal in address, warm in content    |
| Spanish (ES) | Warm, "tú" in most markets (LATAM + Spain); avoid "vos"                            | Informal but not too casual           |
| German (DE)  | Warm restraint — "Sie" for adults, less exclamation marks                          | Formal in address, sincere in content |
| Italian (IT) | Warm and expressive — "Lei" for formal, "tu" is common in artisan/handmade context | Warm from the first line              |

MODELLO 1

ORDINE ABITUALE

MODELLO 2

REGALO (L'ACQUIRENTE REGALA)

"{buyer_name}, grazie per aver incluso queste scarpine nel Suo regalo. Il fatto a mano lascia un ricordo speciale — mi onora che abbia scelto le mie. I miei migliori auguri a {recipient_name}, spero che le piaceranno tanto."

— {signature}, {store_name}

MODELLO 3

CLIENTE AFFEZIONATA

"{buyer_name}, rivedere il tuo nome negli ordini mi ha fatto veramente piacere. Le clienti affezionate sono ciò che permette ai piccoli laboratori come il mio di continuare — grazie di cuore. Questo paio è un piccolo regalo da parte mia."

con affetto, {signature}

MODELLO 4

BABY SHOWER / BEBÈ IN ARRIVO

"{buyer_name} — un piccolo paio fatto a mano per l'arrivo del bebè. Congratulazioni, e grazie per aver scelto qualcosa fatto con cura per un momento così speciale."

— {signature}, {store_name}

Nota culturale: in contesto artigianale/handmade è comune il "tu" con clienti abituali (Modello 3), mentre il "Lei" resta appropriato per il primo contatto e i regali formali (Modelli 1, 2, 4). Adattare al contesto della conversazione.

How to print and use these

TWO OPTIONS

1. Print pre-made on kraft card. Print each language on 3.5×5 in cream card. Keep a small stack of each in five labelled slots at your packaging station. Grab the language matching the delivery address as you pack.
2. Handwrite on blank cream card. Use these templates as your reference, but write by hand for maximum warmth. Especially worth it for repeat buyers (Template 3 in each language).

What to do when you don't know the buyer's language

Sometimes the delivery address is Belgium, Switzerland, Canada or another multilingual country. Default rules:

- Belgium: default to French unless the name is clearly Flemish (Van/De/etc.) → then use English + a short Dutch line.
- Switzerland: default to German unless the address is Genève / Lausanne / Fribourg region → then French.
- Canada: default to English unless the address is Québec → then French.
- Anywhere else: default to English. Never guess wrong on a buyer's language — a wrong-language note is worse than English.

DELIVERABLE 6 · UNBOXING CHECKLIST

The Sub-$0.30 Unboxing Checklist

Every packaging element in the Boutique Kit, priced per unit — with the exact suppliers, minimum quantities, and monthly reorder schedule to keep every single package under thirty cents in materials.

VERSION 1.0 · BUYER-ONLY MATERIAL · DO NOT SHARE

The packaging station: everything you need, laid out so you can wrap a package in under 4 minutes.

Why $0.30 is the number

The Etsy handmade market has a psychological ceiling on packaging cost — buyers expect premium presentation, but sellers who spend more than roughly $0.50 per package see their unit margins get squeezed to the point that the extra spend does not convert to extra sales. The sweet spot is $0.20 – $0.30 per package, which lands you well above the box-and-tape crowd but does not eat your margins.

THE RATIO YOU'RE TARGETING

Packaging cost should be less than 1.5% of your retail price. For a $35 pair of booties, that's a $0.52 ceiling. Aim for $0.30, keep the $0.22 in profit. Multiplied over 50 orders per month = $11 extra profit for no visible difference to the buyer.

The monthly reorder schedule

Order everything in bulk once — the shipping and time cost of small orders eats into your $0.30 target. This schedule assumes ~50 packages per month; scale up proportionally if you sell more.

| EVERY          | REORDER                                                           | WHY                                                 |
|----------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|
| Every 30 days  | Nothing                                                           | Working through the initial supply                  |
| Every 60 days  | Tissue paper (2 sheets/pkg = 100/month = need 200 every 2 months) | Runs out first because you use 2 per package        |
| Every 90 days  | Care cards + gift tags (both from Deliverables 1 & 2)             | Printed at home; re-print when down to last 100     |
| Every 100 days | Kraft boxes (50/bundle) + wax seals (100/box)                     | 50 boxes = ~1 month; refill when down to 15         |
| Every 200 days | Cream ribbon (100 yd = ~400 packages)                             | Almost lasts forever; refill when down to ~10 yards |
| Every 300 days | Jute twine + dried herbs                                          | Very slow-consumers; refill once/year               |

How much cash to have on hand

To start the Boutique Kit setup from scratch:

$92

TOTAL STARTUP COST

That's every material needed for 200+ packages. If you sell 50 packages/month, that's four months of packaging on a $92 one-time investment, which averages to $0.46 per package during those first 200 (higher than steady state because of shipping on the initial order). After that, monthly reorders bring you to the steady-state $0.29 per package.

THE PRICING LIFT THAT PAYS BACK THE $92

Adding premium packaging to a $35 pair of booties consistently supports a $2–4 price bump on Etsy (or $2–4 in perceived value that makes the listing convert 5–8% higher without a price change). Even at the low end, 50 orders at +$2 = +$100/month. The initial $92 pays back in month one.

Where NOT to cut corners (the false economies)

Do NOT skip the tissue paper

It's $0.045 per package. Skipping it saves $2.25 per month. Removing it makes every buyer describe the package as "just a box" in reviews. Not worth it.

Do NOT use plastic ribbon

Costs the same as satin, feels five times cheaper. The ribbon is the ONE thing every buyer touches for the longest time (untying it). It must feel good.

Do NOT skip the wax seal on your top-tier listings

The wax seal is the single highest-photographed detail on packaging. Buyers who post their unboxing on Instagram are photographing the seal, not the bootie. That's your free reach.

Do NOT use a printed "thank you" instead of the care card

A printed generic thank-you goes into recycling. A care card with washing instructions gets pinned to the fridge or tucked into the baby-clothes drawer. Care instructions have a use, thank-yous don't.

The 4-minute packaging routine

AT THE WORKBENCH

1. 0:00–0:30 — assemble the kraft box, place one sheet of tissue at the bottom.
2. 0:30–1:30 — wrap the booties in the second tissue sheet (loose fold, not tight), tie once with ribbon.
3. 1:30–2:00 — place the wrapped booties in the box, tuck the corners of the base tissue up around them.
4. 2:00–2:45 — close the box, tie the outer ribbon (long bow, leave 2 in tails), thread the gift tag on with jute twine.
5. 2:45–3:15 — apply the wax seal (self-adhesive, presses on) to the front of the box near the ribbon knot.
6. 3:15–3:45 — slide the care card between the ribbon and the box, or under the tag.
7. 3:45–4:00 — for premium: tuck a dried eucalyptus sprig into the ribbon; final tidy.

Total: ~4 minutes per package once the workflow is fluent. First 5 packages take 8–10 minutes; by the 30th package you're at 4 minutes.

Storage: how to organise the packaging station

Every square inch of the packaging station should be reachable without moving. Use vertical shelving with clear labelled bins:

| BIN          | WHAT LIVES THERE                                               |
|--------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|
| Bin 1 (top)  | Flat kraft boxes + spare tissue sheets                         |
| Bin 2        | Ribbon spool + jute twine ball + scissors                      |
| Bin 3        | Wax seals (in original box) + care cards + gift tags (stacked) |
| Bin 4        | Dried herbs (jar or small box)                                 |
| Desk surface | Only the current package being assembled                       |

The one detail that pays for itself in three orders

ONE-TIME COST OF A HEAT-EMBOSSING WAX SEAL STARTER KIT

If you have the budget for one upgrade beyond the $92 starter, buy a real wax seal stamp with your initial (Amazon "wax seal stamp letter B" for ~$18). Buyers photograph a real wax seal at 4x the rate of self-adhesive ones. Pays for itself in the free Instagram reach from ~3 buyer posts.

BOOTIE MASTER · HANDMADE BOUTIQUE

DELIVERABLE 3 · INSTAGRAM-WORTHY SETUP

The Instagram Worthy Setup

Four package-photo setups your buyer will actually re-post — and the caption + hashtag combos that turn their post into free reach for your shop.

VERSION 1.0 · BUYER-ONLY MATERIAL · DO NOT SHARE

The finished package, styled the way it'll appear in a buyer's Instagram feed.

Why buyer photos are the highest-leverage marketing you'll ever get

A single buyer post of your package on Instagram reaches, on average, 12–40 other potential buyers in the exact niche you sell to (baby-crochet audiences overlap heavily). One organic post from a buyer's account converts 4–7× better than a paid Etsy Ad — because it's a real person, not a promotion.

Buyer posts happen naturally when the package is photogenic AND memorable. This deliverable is how you engineer both without asking the buyer to do anything special — they'll photograph it because it deserves photographing.

THE INSTAGRAM RULE OF THUMB

A buyer photographs your package when opening it makes them feel something within the first 3 seconds. Warm light, natural materials, and a small unexpected detail (wax seal, dried herbs, hand-lettered tag) create that feeling. Bland kraft box with tape does not.

The four setups your package should photograph well in

Buyers photograph packages in four typical scenes. Design your packaging to look great in at least three and you're covered for almost every buyer's Instagram context.

Setup 1 • The unboxing hands shot

The buyer holds the opened box up to the camera, hands visible on both sides. Most common Story-format post. Vertical 9:16.

PACKAGE REQUIRES

Tissue that spills out (not neatly folded flat). Bootie visible immediately upon opening — do not bury under tissue.

PALETTE

Warm cream / kraft. Never white — reads sterile in phone light.

LIGHT

Buyer will usually shoot near a window. Your packaging should look great in soft diffused daylight.

BUYER TRIGGER

The "reveal" moment — the first glimpse of the bootie in tissue. Design for a small drama here.

Setup 2 • The overhead flatlay

The closed package on a cream linen surface with 2-3 props around (coffee mug, sprig of dried herbs, card). Most common feed-post format. Square 1:1 or vertical 4:5.

PACKAGE REQUIRES

A visible ribbon or bow on top (looks staged from above). Small props buyers already have (coffee, plant, book).

PALETTE

Neutral cream/kraft/warm wood. If buyer's kitchen is white marble, the package should contrast.

LIGHT

Diagonal soft daylight (like the swiped-across ceramic-mold aesthetic).

BUYER TRIGGER

The moment they set it down before opening. Package should look worth photographing before it's even opened.

Setup 3 • The "wax seal" close-up

Extreme close-up on the wax seal or a signature detail — usually shot with phone in portrait mode. Buyer photographs this before opening, as anticipation. Square 1:1.

PACKAGE
REQUIRES

A wax seal, foil stamp, or hand-lettered detail. This ONE detail is why the shot exists.

PALETTE

Warm cream card with a rich coral or rose seal. High contrast.

LIGHT

Soft window light from one side to make the seal cast a small shadow — reads three-dimensional.

BUYER
TRIGGER

Curiosity — "look what came in the mail." Post before opening, then a second post after.

Setup 4 • The "in a moody scene" shot

The package on a dark surface with warm side light — usually shot in the evening with a candle. Reads "premium boutique." Vertical 4:5.

PACKAGE
REQUIRES

The cream package needs to POP against the dark surface. If your package is also dark, this setup does not work — offer a cream/kraft variant.

PALETTE

Rich contrast: cream/beige package on cocoa/black/dark walnut surface. Warm candle glow visible.

LIGHT

Single warm side light (candle, warm bulb, dusk window). Never overhead — the shadows tell the story.

BUYER
TRIGGER

Slow unwrapping ritual, often before bed. Package feels precious in that light.

How to get buyers to actually post

You cannot ask them directly to post — it feels transactional and the response rate is 2–3%. Instead, design triggers into the package itself:

THE THREE PASSIVE TRIGGERS

1. A visible Instagram handle on your care card. Something like: "If you photograph it, I'd love to see. @yourhandle". No demand. Buyers who post anyway know how to tag you.
2. A hand-lettered detail that begs to be photographed. A wax seal with your logo. Ribbon in an unexpected colour. A dried sprig taped to the tag. One "surprising" detail per package.
3. A secondary opening moment. When they open the box, the bootie is wrapped in a SECOND layer of tissue with a sticker or a small heart-shape. Two "reveals" instead of one. Doubles the photo count.

The hashtag combos that put buyer posts in front of buyers

If a buyer asks how to tag their post, or if you have your own Instagram and want to be findable, use the below combinations. Pick 20–25 hashtags per post — Instagram penalises 30+ (looks spammy) and rewards 15–25 (looks organic).

Baby-first hashtags (buyer post caption)

#babybooties #crochetbaby #handmadebaby #newbornmusthaves #babygift #babyshowergift
#etsybaby #babyclothes #babywear #expectingmom #babyannouncement #genderreveal
#newborngift #babyaccessories #babyfashion #babystyle

Craft-first hashtags (your shop post caption)

#handmadeisbetter #supportsmallbusiness #madewithlove #crochetlover #crochetaddict
#crochetersofinstagram #yarnlove #cottoncraft #cottagecore #slowmade #artisan
#handcrafted #madebyhand #independentartist #creatorcommunity #handmadewithlove

Location + niche (if you list city)

#yourcityhandmade #yourcitysmall #yourcitymoms #yourcitybaby
#etsyseller #etsyfinds #etsyshop #etsyhandmade #etsysellersofinstagram

Timing: when to post for maximum reach

| TIME SLOT          | BUYER TYPE                       | BEST FOR                                         |
|--------------------|----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Weekdays 7–9am     | Parents on the school run scroll | Unboxing hands / product-focus shots             |
| Weekdays 12–1pm    | Lunch break browsing             | Lifestyle flatlays                               |
| Weekdays 8–10pm    | Evening scroll                   | Moody / candle-lit shots                         |
| Saturday 10am–12pm | Highest weekend engagement       | Any shot — this is the highest-conversion window |
| Sunday 6–8pm       | "Sunday scroll"                  | Stories, behind-the-scenes                       |

The one caption that gets re-shares

"Look what came in the mail today 🥰 — a tiny handmade pair from {@your_shop} in {yarn_type}. Every stitch by hand. Little J is going to live in these. If you're on the hunt for a baby-shower gift that isn't from a big-box store, run don't walk."

The formula: emotion opener ("look what came in the mail") + credit + specific product detail + emotional payoff ("going to live in these") + one-line recommendation. Almost all high-engagement handmade posts follow this shape.

The Testimonial & Referral Bounty Engine

5 testimonial extraction scripts + a referral program that turns one buyer into three

The Testimonial & Referral Bounty Engine

Two systems in one document. The first extracts specific, emotional reviews that actually sell (not "5 stars great!"). The second is a light-touch referral program that turns one happy customer into three.

Part 1 — 5 Testimonial Extraction Scripts

The rule: ask ONE specific thing, not "leave a review." Specificity gets specific answers.

Script 1 — "What one thing surprised you?"

Hi [NAME] — I don't want to bug you, but would you be open to writing ONE sentence about what one thing surprised you about the [ITEM]? Just one sentence. It goes on my Etsy where the next mama can see it

Why it works: "surprise" bypasses the generic-review reflex. The reviewer has to think about a specific moment. That specific moment is what sells the next buyer.

Script 2 — "For a first-time buyer"

Hi [NAME] — if a mama who's never bought handmade before was thinking of buying my [ITEM], what would you tell her to expect? I'd love to put that on the listing. Even 2 sentences would be gold.

Script 3 — "The one photo"

Hi [NAME] — would you be up for taking ONE quick photo of the [ITEM] wherever it lives now (on baby, on a shelf, wherever)? I'd love to feature it in my Etsy. Tag me on IG @[HANDLE] or DM me — full credit + a $10 store credit for the next time. ■

Why it works: $10 store credit is small enough not to feel like bribing (which triggers guilt) and specific enough to sound real. Photos convert 3-8× more than review text alone.

Script 4 — "The moment"

Hi [NAME] — quick one: what was the moment when you first put the [ITEM] on your baby? Was it a gift-giving moment, a photo shoot, a Sunday afternoon? I collect little stories like that and they mean the world ■

Script 5 — "Would you buy again?" (Etsy-style close)

Hi [NAME] — if you were going to buy a matching set (hat + bootie, or a full 4-piece), would you buy from me again? Trying to figure out whether to add sets to the shop. Your honest answer helps ■

Rule: if 60%+ say yes, you have your product signal AND your first repeat buyer.

Part 2 — The Referral Bounty Program

Simple system that turns one buyer into two more via a warm, non-pushy incentive.

How it works

- Every buyer gets a small kraft card in her package with a unique code (e.g., NAME10 or FIRST3LETTERS+YEAR).
- Card copy: "Share the love — anyone who uses [CODE] gets $10 off. And you get $10 store credit for every friend who does. No limit. Just don't tell them the number ■"
- Track manually in a Google Sheet (buyer name / code / redemptions). Automate with Etsy coupon codes if scaling.
- Payout: $10 store credit lands in your buyer's Etsy Convo within 48 hours of the redemption. Small, personal, warm.

The card design

Kraft paper, 3.5 × 2 inches (business card size). Print at any office supply store or Vistaprint. Content in exact layout:

| Front                                                          | Back                               |
|----------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|

Terms (to protect your margin)

- New buyer only (not existing customers using their own code again)
- Minimum order $25 to redeem
- Not stackable with other promotions
- Store credit expires 6 months from issue (soft — you can always extend for a loyal buyer)

Expected ROI

In a small handmade shop with ~30 orders/month, the referral program typically brings in 4-8 new buyers per month by month 3. Cost to you: $40-80/mo in credits. Revenue from those new buyers: $200-800/mo.

Net: 3-10× return, all on autopilot.

The Bundle Builder

4 pre-designed bundles that instantly raise your average order to $89+

The Bundle Builder — 4 Cash-Multiplier Framings

The math on bundles is not "discount to move volume." It's positioning to raise AOV. Same items, same margin per item, framed as a curated set that a mother actively wants to buy. This document gives you 4 pre-designed bundles with positioning, pricing math, and copy that ships. Pick whichever fits your inventory this month.

Bundle 1 — The Gift Set ($55-65)

What's in it

- 1 pair of booties (any colorway)
- 1 matching bonnet or cap
- Simple gift box with tissue + ribbon

Who buys it

Auntie / grandma / girlfriend who wants a "nice gift" for a baby shower or newborn but doesn't want to think about what goes with what. Impulse buyer.

The copy

The Little Gift Set — Handmade Bootie + Matching Bonnet, Wrapped Ready to Give. Perfect for the baby shower on your calendar. Ships in a keepsake box. $65.

Pricing math

Bootie standalone: $28. Bonnet standalone: $22. Sold together: $65. That's a 30% price bump over the sum — justified by "gift-ready packaging." Margin per bundle sale: ~$45 (before shipping). Your job: make the packaging photograph like a $100 item, not a $50 one.

Bundle 2 — The Baby-Shower Box ($89-99)

What's in it

- 1 pair of booties + 1 matching bonnet
- 1 hand-crocheted rattle or small amigurumi toy

- Handwritten "welcome little one" card in a linen envelope
- Wrapped in a natural jute-tied linen fabric "gift wrap" (reusable, photo-worthy)

Who buys it

The woman hosting the baby shower. She wants ONE decision, made, done. Willing to pay ~2× the item cost to skip 6 hours of gift-hunting.

The copy

The Baby-Shower Box — A Handmade Trio the Mama Will Never Forget. Booties, bonnet, and a crocheted rattle wrapped in linen, ready to gift. Ships in 3-5 days. $95.

Pricing math

Sum of items standalone:  $$28 + $22 + $18 = $68$ . Bundle price: $95. Bump: 40%. Justified by curation + presentation. Margin: ~$65 per bundle.

Bundle 3 — The Twin / Multi-Baby Set ($145-165)

What's in it

- 2 pairs of booties in matching but not identical colorways (twin-style)
- 2 matching bonnets
- Personalization: initials on each pair, embroidered
- Wrapped as one gift, one card, one tag

Who buys it

Parent-of-multiples / grandma-of-twins. This is a rare specific search on Etsy → search volume low, competition even lower → high conversion when you have it listed.

The copy

The Twin Set — Two Handmade Bootie + Bonnet Pairs, Personalized with Initials. For the parent of multiples who wants matching-but-not-identical. Ships in 7-10 days. $155.

Pricing math

Sum standalone:  $$28 \times 2 + $22 \times 2 + $16 \text{ personalization} = $116$ . Bundle: $155. Bump: 34%. Margin: ~$85 (embroidery adds real time but is billed at premium).

Bundle 4 — The Grandparent-Legacy Set ($195-225)

What's in it

- 1 pair of booties + 1 matching bonnet + 1 matching cardigan (the 3-piece)

- 1 kraft box with a personalized handwritten "To [BABY NAME] from Grandma, made by [YOUR NAME]" note
- Optional: printed care card with grandma's own message (grandparent submits)

Who buys it

The grandparent who wants THE gift — the one that's still in the box in 30 years. Highest AOV. Slowest sales cycle (2-3 messages before purchase). Highest emotional payoff for both sides.

The copy

The Grandparent-Legacy Set — Bootie, Bonnet, and Cardigan, Personalized with a Handwritten Note from You to Baby. The gift they'll keep forever. Ships in 10-14 days. Personalization included. $215.

Pricing math

Sum standalone:  $$28 + $22 + $85 = $135$ . Bundle: $215. Bump: 60%. Justified by the emotional narrative + personalization + longer timeline. Margin: ~$125.

How to launch bundles this week

- 1 Pick ONE bundle (start with Gift Set or Baby-Shower Box — highest velocity, lowest complexity).
- 2 Photograph it 3 times: (a) wrapped/gift-ready, (b) unwrapped showing all items, (c) held or on baby feet.
- 3 List it on Etsy as its own listing (not a variant). Title: use the copy from this document verbatim.
- 4 Add "limited to 10 sold per month" in the description (scarcity that's real for a solo maker).
- 5 Link from your custom-order page + IG bio + any current bootie listing that has views but low conversion.
- 6 Wait 2 weeks. If Bundle 1 sells → add Bundle 2. If Bundle 2 sells → add Bundle 3. Never launch all four at once.

The unfair truth about handmade AOV

The average handmade seller has an AOV of $28-35. The top 5% of handmade sellers have an AOV of $85-140. The ONLY difference is bundle offerings. Same skill, same market, same photos. Just the choice to package items together with a story. Do it this week.

60/90/120 Day Reactivation Emails

The bonus — rescue 12-18% of "lost" customers with 3 warm emails

The Secret Bonus — 60/90/120 Day Reactivation Emails

This is the reactivation sequence for buyers who ghosted the 45-day follow-up. Sent at day 60, day 90, day 120. Rescues 12-18% of "lost" customers. Copy-paste ready.

Email 1 — Day 60 • The genuine check-in

Subject line options (pick one, don't test)

- Just wanted to say hi ■
- How is [BABY'S NAME/AGE] doing?
- A little thing I thought you might like

Body

Hi [NAME] — no pushy sales here. Just wanted to say hi and hope your little one is thriving ■ It's been about 2 months since you got the [ITEM] and I still think of that order sometimes. If you ever want to send me a photo of it in action, it would make my week. Xx [YOUR NAME]

Rule: zero sales language. Zero "here's what's new." Just a human moment. Reply rate: 8-15%. Every reply reactivates the relationship.

Email 2 — Day 90 • The soft new-drop

Subject line

Something new I thought of you for

Body

Hi [NAME] — I made a new [PATTERN NAME — e.g. "Halloween pumpkin bootie"] this week and I thought of your little one right away. If your baby is around [CURRENT AGE — calculated from purchase date + 3 months], it would fit perfectly. Not selling, just showing — [LINK to photo or listing]. Xx [YOUR NAME]

Rule: "not selling, just showing" is a permission-release phrase. It reduces the reader's defense and paradoxically drives higher click-through than a direct sell.

Email 3 — Day 120 • The seasonal gift-shopping nudge

Subject line (based on season)

- Fall: "For the baby shower on your calendar this fall ■"
- Winter: "A little holiday gift idea (that's not from Amazon)"
- Spring: "Handmade for the Easter baby in your life"
- Summer: "For the July/August baby shower in your calendar"

Body

Hi [NAME] — quick note. Baby shower / holiday season is coming and I want you to have this before the rush. I'm taking [X] more custom orders before I close for [MONTH]. If you have someone in mind, here's the form — 24hr quote → [YOUR CUSTOM LINK]. If not, no worries — this is genuinely the last one from me for a while. Sending love, [YOUR NAME]

Rule: real seasonal deadlines create real urgency. This message converts 12-18% of the "lost" list into a repeat sale or a referral order.

The math on reactivation

Every 100 buyers who don't respond to the 45-day sequence, this 3-email reactivation typically rescues 12-18 of them. At an average $65 second-order value, that's $780-1,170 per 100 buyers per year — pure incremental revenue that would have been lost. Runs on autopilot if you set as a Kit/ConvertKit automation triggered 60 days after order-shipped tag.

Boundaries

- Never a 4th reactivation email. If they don't reply after 120 days, the relationship is done. Sending more damages your sender reputation and their opinion of your brand.
- Never use "we miss you" or "come back!" language. Both trigger unsubscribe.
- Never bundle a discount in the reactivation. Free care + real value only. Discounts feel desperate.
