

C

The Crochet Cap Blueprint™

BONUS 4 OF 4

Online Selling Class

Where to list your first caps, how to write a listing that sells, and ready-to-copy scripts for turning "so cute!" comments into paid orders.

Bonus guide

2026 edition

BONUS 4

From finished cap to paid order

You don't need a following — you need one clear listing and a script for the comments you're probably already getting.

Most first-time handmade sellers already have interested buyers — friends, family, and social media contacts who comment "I need this!" and then never follow up. This class closes that gap.

Where to list

PLATFORM	BEST FOR
Instagram / Facebook posts & stories	Your warmest audience — people who already know you
Etsy or a similar handmade marketplace	Cold traffic actively searching for handmade crochet
Local craft fairs / markets	Trying on in person removes the biggest online objection: fit
Facebook Marketplace / local groups	Fast, no-fee local sales while you build a following

Writing a listing that sells

- Title: lead with the style name and material — "Sunflower Motif Crochet Visor Cap, Cotton, Handmade" beats "Cute Hat."
- First line: name who it's for and the feeling, not just the facts — "Turn heads at the beach or the farmer's market in this one-of-a-kind handmade piece."
- Details buyers always ask about: fits what head size, material, care instructions (hand wash cold, lay flat to dry), and turnaround time to ship.
- Always include: at least one worn photo (see Bonus 3) and the close-up stitch-detail shot — it's the single biggest factor in perceived value.

Scripts for turning comments into sales

WHEN SOMEONE COMMENTS "I NEED THIS!"

"Thank you so much! 🧡 I have a few slots open for this style right now — want me to save you one? It's $[price] and ships in [X] days."

FOLLOWING UP ON A "MAYBE LATER"

"No pressure at all! Just a heads up, I'm making a small batch of [pattern name] this week — happy to hold one for you until [date] if you'd like."

HANDLING A PRICE OBJECTION

"Totally understand — each one takes about [X] hours to make by hand, which is part of why it's one-of-a-kind rather than mass-produced. I do have the Flower Keychain (Bonus mini-pattern) starting at $[price] if you'd like to try the style first!"

✓ THE 10-PERSON RULE

Before running any ads or paying for traffic, message 10 people in your existing circle with the first script above.

Handmade sellers consistently land their first 3–5 sales this way — it costs nothing and confirms your pricing before you invest in growth.

You're ready for your first sale.

Go back to the Pattern Collection whenever you need a refresher on construction — and revisit Bonus 2 · Pricing Guide every time you raise your prices.

The Crochet Cap Blueprint™

Bonus 4 of 4 · Online Selling Class